

DETERMINERS

Information Bank

Determiners are words which come at the beginning of the noun phrase.

They tell us whether the noun phrase is specific or general.

Determiners are either specific or general.

The specific determiners are:

The definite article: the

Possessives: my, your, his, her, its; our, their, whose

Demonstratives: this, that, these, those

Interrogatives: which

The general determiners are:

a; an; any; another; other; what

Use this market stall to create sentences with determiners in them.

